Title: Fake It Until You Make It Author: Jim Quinn

The government reported CPI of only 2.7 percent, and the financial pundits and Trump toadies celebrated the lowest inflation in five years. This follows a surprisingly good unemployment report where the country added 50,000 jobs and the unemployment rate fell to 4.4 percent. However, every month in 2025 had been revised downward; every freaking month was a lie when originally reported. The lie did its job of sending the stock market to new all-time highs, because they need to fake it until they make it.

THE STATISTICAL ILLUSION AND THE CPI LIE

It is embarrassing living under the rule of a quasi-fascist corporate governmental bureaucracy built on a funeral pyre of lies. The average forgotten man knows their cost of living increases are nowhere near 2.7 percent. They pay 30 percent more for utilities, 20 percent more for a steak, 10 percent more for chicken, 20 percent more for car insurance, and 35 percent more for new and used cars since 2020. The CPI is a lie.

The BLS bureaucrats massage the employment numbers so hard it is laughable. When common folk give up looking for a job because there are none to be had, they are no longer counted as unemployed. If you believe there are only 7.5 million Americans unemployed out of the 275 million adult population, while 103 million are not in the labor force, then you are a clueless non-critical thinking dupe. The American empire has devolved into a dying, lying replica of the degenerate Soviet empire where the lie has become the pillar industry of the country.

THE GUTTING OF THE MIDDLE CLASS

If GDP is growing at 5 percent and unemployment is low, why would the Fed need to cut interest rates and begin another massive round of quantitative easing? The global financial system is choking on debt, and the only solution central bankers and their billionaire puppet masters have is to print trillions more fiat. They use this newly printed fiat to prop up financial markets and create a Potemkin facade of normalcy for the ignorant masses.

However, gold and silver are calling their bluff; they have lost control of their paper derivative price suppression mechanisms. The system is broken. Recent data shows that the labor share of US GDP in the form of compensation just reached an all-time low of 53.8 percent. It is clear this has not been the century of the worker, but the century of bankers and corporations.

Workers would be receiving over 3 trillion dollars more in annual compensation if our overlords had not financialized the world and treated workers as replaceable cogs. Corporate profit margins reached 10.9 percent in the third quarter, the second highest in history. The American worker has been screwed over for the sake of corporate profits while senior citizens on a fixed income choose between paying the electric bill or filling prescriptions. Ross Perot was right in 1992 when he described that giant sucking sound of jobs being sent overseas to wreck the country for the sake of making money.

THE SURGING CONSUMER DEBT CRISIS

If the economy is doing so well, why are all consumer-related measures showing extreme stress? Auto loan delinquencies have soared to Great Recession levels, with over 2 million autos repossessed in 2025. Student loan delinquencies are at a 21-year high, and mortgage delinquencies are ticking up as the boom turns into a bust. Consumer confidence is 35 percent lower than in 2019.

Household debt rocketed by 197 billion dollars in the third quarter, reaching an astronomical 18.6 trillion dollars. US consumers now see a 15.3 percent chance of missing a minimum debt payment over the next three months, the highest since April 2020. By doubling the cost of everything while giving workers a smaller slice of the pie, the ruling class has manipulated millions of Americans into inescapable debt servitude. They wanted hamsters running on a never-ending wheel of debt. The highest delinquency risk is reported by households earning below 50,000 dollars and seniors living on fixed incomes.

GEOPOLITICAL INSANITY AND THE NEW WORLD ORDER

Things are falling apart. The country adds 5 billion dollars to the national debt every day, and 200 trillion dollars of unfunded liabilities are mathematically impossible to honor. Amidst this, the peace president has kidnapped another world leader, is about to bomb Iran for a second time, is about to conquer Greenland, and hijacks Russian oil tankers. He threatens to bomb Mexico and Colombia while saber-rattling toward China regarding Taiwan.

It is impossible to tell whether this international strife is a distraction from the imminent financial disaster of the western world or if psychopaths in suits are following orders of globalist billionaires who need chaos, strife, and mass casualties to implement their New World Order. The center cannot hold. We are ruled by the worst, and they passionately want to blow up the world. Welcome to 2026, where the blood-dimmed tide is loosed and the ceremony of innocence is lost.
